Notes to the Conductor

One of the top 25 recorded jazz standards of all time, this classic 1924 Gershwin hit will become a new favorite for the orchestra. This contemporary arrangement respects the swinging tradition of this song as recorded by Eddie South, Stuff Smith, Ella Fitzgerald, and others. Experienced players will love improvising over the piece. Beginners will have success as the chord changes play themselves in the key of G.

SWING TIPS:

- Play into the string.
- In contrast to classical styles, the last notes of lines should be played with an accent.
- Accent tied notes.
- In contrast to classical styles, beats two and four might get a slightly stronger accent.
