

One of the great composers of romantic piano music, Chopin had a unique gift for melody, and his compositional approach to harmony was revolutionary for his time. Although he began his career as a pianist, he soon abandoned concert life to devote himself to composing. This Nocturne, written at the age of 21, is one of his most famous works for piano.

Nocturne in E \flat Major

Frédéric Chopin (1810–1849)

Op. 9, No. 2

Arr. Henry Levine

Andante

p espressivo

2

Ped. simile

4 p

6 poco rit. mf a tempo

8

poco rall.

p a tempo

Ped. come prima

10

p