NARRATION #1

- STUDENT 1: For people living in warm climes,
Winter doesn't mean much.
- STUDENT 2: But for those living in cold climes,
Snow adds the magic touch.
- STUDENT 3: The true sign of winter:
When trees are painted white,
- STUDENT 4: And crystal bits of ice and snow
Make a wondrous sight!
- STUDENT 5: Students, yes and Teachers, too,
Are ready for that day.
- ALL: They wait and wait for snow to fall
And hope it is TODAY!

We — raised — our — eyes, and we

NARRATION #3

- STUDENT 1: Let's say a snow is threatening,
upon this winter morn.
- STUDENT 2: And students all are in their seats,
looking quite forlorn.
- STUDENT 3: What happens next upon this day
When flakes come rushing down?
- STUDENT 4: And parents start to call the school
From all over town?
- STUDENT 5: Who decides the students' fate?
Who gets to make the call?
- ALL: Will school stay open or close down,
Affecting one and all?

3. OUR GOOD PRINCIPAL LOOKED OUT (Good King Wenceslas)
