PROGRAM NOTES

The theme for “Quiet as the Moon” was composed for a Peanuts television series, “This is America, Charlie Brown,” in which the Peanuts characters flew to the moon on a NASA space ship. Later, I set for chorus words by my wife, Lola, that describe the exquisite harmony of the universe, and acknowledges the interrelationships of mankind and the stars, earth, and moon. She based her lyrics on something Astronomer Don Brownlee wrote: “The atoms in our bodies have all resided inside stars. Most of these atoms were actually produced inside stars in the distant past. These atoms... four and a half billion years ago formed into our present solar system... We are quite literally made from stardust.”

Dave Brubeck

Dave Brubeck (1920-2012)

A jazz pianist who is noted for his improvisational skills, Dave Brubeck is also the composer of many full-length works, including sacred, hymns, orchestral, chamber music, ballet suites, a string quartet, solo pieces for piano, violin & voice, and large-scale works for chorus and orchestra. He has been designated a “Living Legend” by the Library of Congress and a “Jazz Master” by the National Endowment for the Arts.

We are part of Earth, (part of Earth) We are part of sun, (part of sun)
We are moon and star. And with love we are one, binding us silently, quiet as the moon.

We are moon and star. And with love we are one,
