Cast of Characters and Costumes

RUBY: Our hostess with the most-est! She delivers service with a smile . . . and just a few snappy comebacks. But don't let her sassy attitude fool you, Ruby loves her job, the kids who come in, Christmas, and the music on the jingle bell jukebox. Optional "cameo role"—this could be a special feature for an adult performer. Costume Ruby like a typical diner-style waitress with an apron worn over a uniform dress, cat-eye glasses, and perhaps a hairnet or hat.

STUDENTS: There are 28 assigned speaking parts, but these could be divided among several other students, or reduced to just a few featured performers. Student 9 must be a boy, 10 must be a girl (who sings the short solo at the start of song #5), but all other student parts are not gender specific. For a simple presentation: your usual concert attire will work well, or encourage students to dress in red and green "everyday clothes," bundle in colorful winter garb, or print Jingle Bell Jukebox t-shirts. For a stylized show: recreate the 1950s, using jeans and jackets for boys, and poodle skirts and sweater sets for girls (in Christmas colors and designs, of course).

Setting and Props

It's so simple! Any number of singers on traditional choral risers or platforms is the main focus of the performance area. Most students remain in place on the risers throughout the show, delivering group lines and singing/dancing the songs from there.

Off to one side is "the soda shop," which consists of a small table and chair set (or perhaps a vintage restaurant booth), and the life-size jingle bell jukebox (painted with bright Christmas colors, and highlighted with festive holiday lights). Ruby is always "at work" in the soda shop, and the other featured speakers come-to and go-from this area for their scenes.

In addition, the entire performance area may be dressed with holiday and/or winter decorations, retro soda shop signs, or 1950s decor.

Optional props: Jingle bells for song #4, "Grinch" costume or mask for song #6, Large Currier and Ives winter print for song #7, Large plastic candy canes for song #9
