NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

"There Is No Greater Love" is a new setting of the great jazz standard by Marty Symes and Isham Jones. This arrangement pays tribute to the influence of master arrangers Thad Jones, Sammy Nestico, and John Clayton. The tempo of this chart is somewhat flexible, with the "ideal" tempo at M.M. ♩ = 184. However, the chart would work well in a range of tempos (M.M. ♩ = 176–192). Regardless of the chosen tempo, the opening of the chart should have a light, floating swing "2" feel. Your drummer should become familiar with playing brushes in this style. As reference, some great drummers with excellent brush technique include Jeff Hamilton, Billy Hart, Joe Morello, and Ed Thigpen.

This arrangement opens with one chorus of contrafact (a newly composed melody over an existing set of chord changes). This section should be light and swinging, and it features a "small band" of alto 1, tenor 1, baritone, trumpet 2 (using harmon mute), and guitar. If you would like to include a few more players on the opening soli, the unison lines have also been cued into alto 2 and tenor 2. The brass punches should be very clear and rhythmically confident, with a slight bit of punch. Don't let the brass get too heavy.

I wanted to give the rhythm section players the opportunity to work on phrasing a melodic line together, so the actual melody of the tune is set in guitar, piano, and acoustic bass and begins at m. 34. As with the contrafact opening, keep the approach light and swinging.

The solo section begins at m. 70. Suggested solos have been provided for alto 1, trombone 1, and piano. These written suggested improvisations should only be used as a point of departure. I strongly encourage the soloist to improvise his or her own solo. Feel free to use the send-off passages (mm. 70–73 and mm. 78–81) as well as the ensemble backgrounds as desired. If you plan to have multiple soloists, I would suggest using the send-offs on the first time through the solo section. The rhythmic feel in the chart changes here to a driving swing "4."

At mm. 110–111, a two-measure saxophone section soli break occurs. Make sure the saxophones dig in and play the soli with strong, confident sound. The punch comments in the brass should not be too short—think "phat." The high point of the chart begins in m. 138. The chart then winds down, beginning with the drum fill in mm. 152–153. The energy level is fairly even and calm to the end of the arrangement.

We hope you enjoy this new arrangement of "There Is No Greater Love."
