PROGRAM NOTES

Musicals and movies are a match made in Heaven! Mamma Mia!, La La Land, and Chicago are three timeless masterpieces of this immensely popular genre. Incorporating "Dancing Queen," "Mia and Sebastian's Theme," and "Overture/And All That Jazz," At The Movies—The Musicals provides a memorable and exciting journey into the wonderland of movie musicals.

NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

The opening statement of "Dancing Queen" should be very bold and exciting. While this portion of the medley is fairly straightforward, take care that each phrase is shaped to completion and that written articulations are executed properly to ensure as much clarity as possible. Be sure that each entrance is balanced to ensure that the beginning of the chorus at measure 16 is a dramatic "arrival point" in this portion of the medley. Depending on the endurance of your ensemble, it is certainly appropriate to add a tapered decrescendo in measures 28–31. Allow the crescendo in measures 32–34 to be very intense!

"Mia and Sebastian's Theme" from La La Land begins at measure 36, and it should be a completely different tone and mood from the opening section. Let the wind chimes and the suspended cymbal roll into the  $\frac{3}{4}$  bar; be very free and laid back. Let your flute soloist (or cued clarinet soloist) be very soulful and free. Don't feel like it's a necessity to be strict with the tempo here; be as expressive and imaginative as your creativity dictates to set the mood represented by this section. Continue this shaping in measure 44, when the euphonium, horns, bassoon, oboe, and the rest of the flute section take over the melody.

At measure 52, the tempo should become slightly more strict and the mood a bit bolder. The crescendo at measure 59 should be very dramatic and measure 60 should extremely emotional and cinematic. Feel free to shape this portion as you and your ensemble feel it needs to be. Beginning in measures 64–67 and 68–70, the tempo should increase in a very intense manner. The chord at measure 71 should be very intense and have a clean cut-off.

"Overture/And All That Jazz" begins at measure 73 with a trumpet solo that should be very free and stylistically expressive. I recommend playing the original recording for your trumpet player (as well as the entire ensemble), so that appropriate style can be achieved. The use of a plunger is preferred, but a harmon mute, if available, will also work very well. At measure 78, the tempo becomes very fast, in two, and in an aggressive jazz style. It is imperative that articulations be executed properly. Ensure your percussion section stays "ahead of the beat" to keep this section driving forward and as exciting as possible. Measure 122 to the end should be "wide open" and "no-holds-barred"!

I hope that you, your ensemble, and your audience have as much fun with At The Movies—The Musicals as I did arranging it. I wish you fun rehearsals and most memorable performances!
