NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

Sweet Emma is a composition by Nat Adderley that was first recorded in 1968 as part of the Cannonball Adderley Quintet recording In Person. This 16-bar tune is a tribute to and inspired by Sweet Emma Barrett, a pianist and singer, who was an integral part of the New Orleans music scene throughout the 20th century, including being a member of the Original Tuxedo Jazz Orchestra in the 1920s and leading the Preservation Hall Jazz Band in the 1960s.

My arrangement begins with a chorale featuring trumpet 2 and alto 1. The saxophones, trombones, and bass should support these players without overshadowing them, and the passage should peak at the fermata in m. 6. The drums establish the new tempo at m. 7. I have set the tempo at 100–104 BPM, a bit brighter than the original. For the drums, I have a basic groove notated. If you have a set player that can play a “fat-back” groove, try experimenting with this feel, as it could bring an entirely different level of funkiness to the chart!

The first complete statement begins at the end of m. 9 with alto 1 and trumpet 2 stating the melody. The rhythm section and saxophones at m. 18 should observe proper balance so these lines can be heard. The second statement of the theme at m. 26 is played by the full ensemble with the brass and saxophones in a call-and-response style.

There are two 16-measure solo sections with provided guide solos. If additional soloists would like to improvise, the first solo passage could be repeated to accommodate.

After the solos, a breakdown section ensues using a vamp based on the 15th measure of the form. The horn section begins a call-and-response dialogue based on the opening three notes of the melody. This passage should gradually build to the  $\frac{1}{16}$  on beat 2 of m. 85. Check out the big rest on beat 1 in m. 86, and make sure the band hits cleanly on beat 2. This will have a dramatic effect for your audience and will be fun for your ensemble too. After all, music is the combination of sound and silence. This passage should stay at the  $\frac{1}{16}$  level but drop down slightly to  $\frac{1}{8}$  at m. 92. Drums are featured at m. 94 between the ensemble figures. If stamina or timing are of concern, the repeat could be omitted here. The volume and intensity levels should increase again in m. 103 with a crescendo leading to the  $\frac{1}{16}$  in m. 104. The tempo should begin to broaden in m. 103 and continue to slow down until the final note.

I hope you and your students enjoy studying and playing Sweet Emma, and I wish you the best for a successful performance!
