Ms. Newbold is frequently sought after as a keynote speaker and guest clinician. She has conducted and worked with orchestras and bands throughout the U.S. and overseas such as The Netherlands, Belgium, Australia, Indonesia, Singapore, and China. As a filmmaker and composer in Hollywood, her music can also be heard in film and other recording projects.

ABOUT THE MUSIC

Battle, commissioned by the Northbrook District 28 Orchestra Program, is inspired by ancient Northern European and Scandinavian fiddle music and instruments such as the hurdy gurdy, talharpa (or bowed lyre), and percussion like the bodhrán and shamanic drum. The piece paints a picture of a battle long ago but also reflects some of the frustration and challenges of the current world. Even though the scene can be lonely, ugly and traumatic, there is still hope and beauty and an important reminder that we are stronger together.

PERFORMANCE NOTES

If one is going into battle, one needs to have war drums. There are many percussive effects in the strings so the piece can be performed without percussion if desired. If utilizing drums, feel free to use any type of cinematic type ethnic drum, tom-tom, or snare with the snares off. Stagger bowings on long held notes. Take time with the slides and make them deliberate, especially in the lower voices. All eighth notes should be short and off the string if possible. Play all double stops if possible, especially if there's an open string and divisi as necessary. You can highlight one violinist or pass the solos around to different players in the violin and viola sections. A few solos are cued in the 2nd violin part. Exaggerate accents and dynamics, particularly in the percussion. Use your inner rage and everything angry to play this piece.

Col legno: Tap the stick part of the bow on the string and finger the notes as written. For the col legno behind the bridge, place the bow on the other side of the bridge closer to the chinrest. All col legno should be accented and a louder dynamic for the effect to come through.

Fingerboard Slap/Instrument Smack: For violins, put the bow down and have the instrument on your lap upright. Use the left hand to lightly muffle the strings and slap the fingerboard with an open right hand. For the running eighth notes, use both the left and right hand. Smack beside the fingerboard on the top front of the instrument for the other effect. Use your best judgment and do not damage any instruments.

Snap Pizz.: Pluck the string in a vertical upward motion so the string snaps against the fingerboard.

Strum Pizz.: 2nd violins keep the instrument on the lap and strum the chords like a ukulele or mandolin. Use the thumb of the right hand to strum or touch the index finger to the thumb like you would holding a pick and strum with the nail portion. Be pretty aggressive with this technique in order to play all strings in the chords. 1st violins and violas should keep the instrument in the normal playing position and strum using the index finger.
