Rhythm Notation and Time Signatures

At the beginning of every song is a time signature. $\frac{4}{4}$ is the most common time signature:

$\frac{4}{4}$ Four Counts To A Measure
 $\frac{4}{4}$ A Quarter Note Receives One Count

In $\frac{4}{4}$ time a whole note receives four beats:

A half note receives two beats:

A quarter note receives one beat:

In the following three exercises, fill in the beats under the notes. Remember, there are four beats in each measure.

Add bar lines in the appropriate places (every four beats). End with a double bar.

Add bar lines (every four beats) then name the notes.

Use after page 9.

F# on the 6th String

Fill in the name of the indicated note:

This frame indicates a note played with the ____ finger at the ____ fret of the ____ string. Its note name is ____ . Play the note and say its name.

This tablature indication shows that the ____ string is to be played at the ____ fret. It will sound the note ____ . Play the note and say its name.

Note Review

Name the notes, then play them:

Rhythm Review

Add the bar lines, then clap the rhythm:
