

Editor's Note

This vivacious little duet is the fourth movement of the Birthday Ode, "Come, Ye Sons of Art," written in 1694 for the birthday of Queen Mary. Its text is such, however, that it can be used for almost any festive occasion, including programs of Christmas music.

The source for the present edition is Vol. 24 of the Collected Works, published in 1926 by The Purcell Society. The use of the editor's realization of Purcell's figured bass and his suggestions for dynamics and tempo is optional.
