Legacy

Ryan Meeboer

Legacy is a song of heroic nature and is a great way to introduce polyrhythmic texture to a young band. This piece opens with a high energy feel that can represent a hero, and uses a melody that focuses on a motif that is simple and memorable. The clarinets set up the pulse of the piece in measures 6 through 9. It is important that these four measures are solidly played and the accenting is properly in place to create the foundation for the main melody of the piece. Measures 26 through 39 are still to have a driving feel, but needs to be played as smoothly as possible.

The piece moves into a lyrical section that can be portrayed as the hero's downfall. A new melody is introduced by the alto saxophone solo, which is later countered by the flute and trumpets. Be sure these two melodies are well balanced as they are played in a call and response style.

In the final measures of the piece, many accents are used along with a fortissimo dynamic. Be careful that it is not overblown, causing the tone of the instruments to be distorted.

Ryan Meeboer is a music educator, who obtained his degree through the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto. As a composer, he has written and arranged many pieces for concert band, jazz band, and small ensembles. His young band piece, Last Voyage of the Queen Anne's Revenge, has been well received by performers, educators, and audiences, and his pieces are starting to be found on festival and contest lists. As a performer, he has had experience in several groups, including concert and stage bands, chamber choir, vocal jazz ensemble, acoustic duets, and the Hamilton based swing group, "The Main Swing Connection".

Ryan began studying music at the age of seven through private guitar lessons. During his years in elementary and secondary school, he gained experience in several families of instruments. Focusing on music education and theory (including composition and orchestration), he attended McMaster University to achieve his honours degree in music. Ryan is currently a teacher for the Halton District School Board in Ontario, where he continues to compose and arrange.

Please contact the composer if you require any further information about this piece or his availability for commissioning new works and appearances.
