Above the Clouds

Dan Austin

Humans have a fascination with flying and being up above the clouds, soaring like a bird. From the smallest children to full grown adults, we all have this level of wonder with the idea of being up in the sky. This piece was written to celebrate that feeling and sensation of flight.

The quick tempo and repeated patterns help create the feeling of forward motion and energy throughout the ensemble. This piece is specifically designed for beginning players, only using 6 pitches and a limited rhythmic pallet. All parts are doubled, giving the young musicians security across the band. This piece is also a great educational tool for introducing dynamics, slurring, staccato and accents.

A musical score for the song 'The Rose Tree'. The score is written for a single melodic line on a five-line staff. The key signature has one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The melody consists of a series of eighth and quarter notes, with some rests. The score includes a large, stylized 'Preview' watermark across the center. The dynamic marking 'mf' (mezzo-forte) is present in several places, indicating a moderate volume. The score is divided into measures by vertical bar lines.
