About the Music

Ring in the holiday season with this Yuletide “tour de force,” A Christmas Spectacular. Designed as a companion (or a possible substitution) for Leroy Anderson’s perennial favorite, A Christmas Festival, it contains popular carols not found in Anderson’s arrangement. Opening with a rousing fanfare based on The First Noel and a foreshadowing quote from Here We Come a-Caroling, it then moves into a straightforward version of O Little Town of Bethlehem in the clarinets and saxophones. A stirring rendition of Angels from the Realms of Glory in the low brass and clarinets is followed by an intimate statement of Away in a Manger, as the instrumental forces are reduced to a brass quintet. The woodwinds reenter for the second half of the tune.

A decidedly nautical version of I Saw Three Ships in 6/8 time is followed by a swashbuckling take on God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen. The woodwinds perform a Percy Grainger-inspired middle phrase, and then the brass and percussion return for a militaristic statement to finish the song. The trumpets follow with Here We Come A-Caroling, leading into a triumphant full ensemble statement as the meter returns to a duple feel. The ensemble forces dwindle again for the tender Infant Holy, Infant Lowly expressed by alternating choirs of low brass/clarinets and upper woodwinds.

A march-like rendition of Once in Royal David’s City dissolves into a motivic transition into the realm of jazz, for a swingin’ statement of It Came Upon a Midnight Clear. A switch to a Latin feel halfway through provides extra energy as well as additional stylistic contrast. The woodwinds furnish a sentimental transition into a quote from Eric Satie’s Gymnopédie No. 1, leading into the opening stanza of The First Noël, which is orchestrated to reflect the lyric, “on a cold winter’s night that was so deep.” A modulation signals the return of the full ensemble to deliver the conclusion of The First Noël. A sudden subito p precedes a compelling return to the opening fanfare, culminating in a dramatic statement of the first phrase of Lift Up Your Heads, Ye Mighty Gates. Stunning harmonies conclude the piece in memorable fashion.

A Christmas Spectacular is generously cross-cued to allow access by smaller ensembles, and can be performed successfully without French horns, oboes, bassoons or baritone saxophone. The 3rd trombone part provides color, but is not necessary and should only be used in the presence of a player with good control of the lower register.

Special instructions for the percussion: for ensembles with four or fewer percussionists, a drum set part is provided that can replace the Percussion 1 and 2 parts. If there are still not enough players for all parts, be sure to retain the Bells/Chimes and Vibraphone parts for the color they provide, eliminating the timpani part if necessary.

I hope your bands and audiences will enjoy the experience of A Christmas Spectacular.
