PROGRAM NOTE

The Prairie Is My Garden by Robert W. Smith was inspired by the artistry of Harvey Dunn, an American painter. He is best known for his prairie-intimate masterpiece of the same title depicting a mother and her two children gathering flowers from the quintessential prairie of the Great Plains. Dunn was born in 1884 on a homestead near Manchester, South Dakota, in the same county that inspired author Laura Ingalls Wilder and her writings regarding life on the prairie. The composer cites three Harvey Dunn works that served as his influences for the piece including "The Prairie Is My Garden," "Empty Rooms" and "The Visit".

The piece was commissioned by the Brandon Valley H.S. Band Program and is dedicated to Mr. Bob Goheen for his 28 years of service as he cultivated young minds through music.

NOTES TO CONDUCTOR

The opening saxophone solo should be as expressive and reflective as possible. The clarinet solo that joins in measure 5 should communicate and interact freely with the saxophone, much the same as the children with their mother in Dunn's masterpiece.

The piece should become light and lively beginning at measure 32 in contrast to the dramatic statements that conclude the introduction. The playful exchange of melodic lines along with articulative and rhythmic clarity are the keys to success in this section of the piece. Measure 53 should be performed with almost a hoedown approach. That hoedown returns at measure 71 as melodic figures converse throughout various sections of the band.

The center section of the work should be freely interpreted and lamenting in its approach. Beginning at measure 100, the piece should warm in its interpretation in contrast to the stark emptiness of the previous melodic statements.

Beginning in measure 118 in powerful fashion, the horns introduce the melody followed by full ensemble responses four bars later. Please do not allow the ensemble's accented quarter notes to get too short. This section of the piece should be treated as a pioneer celebration leading to the rollicking statement at measure 138.

The original melody returns to conclude the performance. Be sure the accelerando beginning at measure 166 is controlled and consistent to the last note.

I hope that you and the ensemble find The Prairie Is My Garden to be a rewarding experience. Best wishes for a wonderful performance!
