Program Notes

The night markets in Taipei, the capital city of Taiwan, are a subject of global fascination. The bustling Shilin Market is considered to be the largest and best known of Taipei's night markets. The surrounding streets of the Shilin District are immensely crowded and teeming with roadside stands opening in the late afternoon and operating well past midnight. The Shilin Markets are truly an institution, as people throughout the world come there to delight in savory edibles, trendy clothing and games of chance.

While in the minor mode, Streets of Shilin reflects the energy and audacity of this dynamic, century-old establishment. The work begins quite nimbly with a striking songlike melody and robust harmonic concentration. The music then becomes briefly calm before resuming its original exuberance and coming to a spirited close.

Rehearsal Suggestions

Careful attention must be given to style markings and dynamics to capture the true character of the music. As the work is largely light and spirited, the section at measure 27 should be equally gentle. While the music is fully functional without the optional percussion part, it will lend a very special quality to your performance.
