About the Music

Joseph Bodin de Boismortier was one of the most popular composers in France. Born in the small town of Thionville (Lorraine) in 1689, Boismortier is noted for introducing the Italian compositional form in France, and for engraving his own music! While he was not highly regarded by 'serious composers' of the time, the popularity of his works made him quite wealthy and successful. He lived to the age of 66 – quite an extended lifetime for that period in history. Boismortier began his composition career following his move to Paris in 1724. Living to the ripe age of 66, Boismortier wrote more than 300 instrumental sonatas and concertos as well as a vast quantity of vocal music!

The Largo and Presto were drawn from his Sonata in D Major, one work from his collection of Six Sonatas, Op. 34. Beyond providing an introduction to Boismortier's music, this work will give students the opportunity to explore triple meter, to develop a rich tone (Largo) and perform in cheerful musical conversation (Presto). It is a delightful work, and could well be utilized as an opening or closing work for any concert.
